FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

Do I need to buy anything else?

You only need compost and water. The pots/jars and Seedsticks[®] are included. Standard potting compost, seed-sowing compost or multipurpose compost all work well.

What herbs are included?

Your kit includes culinary favourites such as coriander, mint and basil (or the varieties shown on the box). All are suitable for indoor growing.

Can I grow the herbs outdoors instead?

Yes. Once established, they can be moved to larger pots outdoors or kept inside. Just be sure to acclimatise gradually to outdoor temperatures.

How long will the herbs last?

With the right light, watering and occasional pruning, herbs can keep producing leaves for months. Regular harvesting encourages fresh growth.

When can I start harvesting?

Harvest when plants are strong and leafy, usually from 6–10 weeks onward. Pick a little and often — never more than one-third of the plant at a time.

PLANTING INSTRUCTIONS

Seedsticks[®] make growing herbs simple and mess-free. Each biodegradable stick contains pre-measured seeds — just plant, water, and grow.

1. Light

Remove all contents from cardboard box and glass jars. Place on a bright windowsill (south or south-west facing if possible). Aim for 4–6+ hours of light daily. Avoid cold draughts and radiators.

2. Prepare

Stick the plant labels to each jar, and tie the twine to the top neck. Then place 100g stones to each jar for drainage. Soak soil pellets in a bowl with 450ml warm water, then pot evenly into jars. Press gently.

3. Plant

Tear off several Seedsticks[®] and plant pointed end down into the soil, following the green depth marker. Space evenly.

4. Water

Keep soil lightly moist. Optional: cover with a clear bag to boost humidity. Remove once shoots appear. Avoid over-watering.

5. Grow & Harvest

Rotate for even growth. Thin if crowded. Harvest from 6–10 weeks. Pick little and often — never more than one-third at a time.

Seeds may take 7–21 days to germinate depending on the herb.

HERB USES

Mint

Fresh, cooling, and wonderfully versatile, mint is perfect for adding a burst of flavour to both sweet and savoury dishes. Use it to lift salads, stir into yoghurt or desserts, or brew a soothing cup of fresh mint tea. It's also a classic pairing for summer drinks and cocktails.

Basil

Sweet and aromatic, basil is a kitchen essential. It's best enjoyed fresh, torn over pasta, pizzas, and salads, or blended into homemade pesto. A few leaves can transform simple tomato dishes, making basil a must-have herb for everyday cooking.

Coriander

Bright, fresh, and full of flavour, coriander is a favourite in global cooking. Its leaves add a zesty finish to curries, tacos, salads, and noodle dishes, while a sprinkle just before serving brings meals to life. Perfect for those who love bold, fresh flavours.
